Dr. Agrawal has got the practical experience in the field of Intellectual Property Rights and he has explained it in all its length and width. He started the session with Patent and further explained that patent can be filed for any invention a person does, it provides the security against any piracy or misuse of the invention. The government of India provides the patent for 20 years and after this one has to re-file the same to continue his right on the patent.

He clarified to the participants the difference between Patent and Copyright also, continued further that Copyright is provided for literature, music, art, software, movies etc. No one can use any part or complete material without the permission of the owner. The Copyright is provided for the life time of the author and continues even 60 years after his death.

Dr. Agrawal also spoke about Trade Mark which provides the owner the exclusive right over the name, font and style of the product. For continuous usage of Trade Mark, one has to pay the renewal fee every 10 years of the registration.

It was completely a very fruitful session and students did throw their queries about the Intellectual Property Rights and the speaker very profoundly satisfied all the participants.

Mr. Sandip Patil Co-ordinated the session and gave vote of thanks to Dr. Ritesh Agrawal.
